

Dr. Arthur Lapierre is currently Professor of Music, and Director of the Vocal Jazz Ensemble at American River College, where he also teaches applied voice, jazz history, and voice classes. He has served faculty at the Berklee College of Music, California State University, Long Beach, California State University Los Angeles, Rancho Santiago Community College and Long Beach Polytechnic High School. Dr. Lapierre is an active adjudicator, clinician and also teaches voice, guitar, and piano in his private studio. Dr. Lapierre has directed the Maine and Colorado All State Jazz Choirs.

Dr. Lapierre's ensembles have performed at conferences of the International Association of Jazz Educators (IAJE), Jazz Education Network (JEN), American Choral Directors Association (ACDA), California Music Educators Association (CMEA), New York State Music Teachers Association (NYSMTA) and at other regional and international conferences. Dr Lapierre's ensembles have been honored with 16 Student Achievement Awards by DownBeat Magazine.