

Becky Marsh is a Ph.D. candidate in Music Education at Michigan State University, where she is completing a cognate in Choral Conducting. Prior to pursuing her doctorate, Ms. Marsh taught high school choral music in North Carolina. As a graduate assistant she has taught introductory music education courses, beginning guitar and ukulele, supervised student teachers, and assisted in vocal pedagogy and choral methods courses. Ms. Marsh holds Bachelors and Masters degrees in Music Education as well as a Post-Baccalaureate Certificate in Music Theory from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Her research interests include teacher education, students' acquisition of musicianship skills, and creative musicianship in the choral classroom.